Masters Gallery Foods Named Large Business of the Year

In the middle of their third plant expansion in 12 years, Masters Gallery Foods, a family-owned company, plans to increase its production and distribution facility from 170,000 square feet to over 300,000 square feet. At an estimated cost of $12 million and the creation of an additional 50 jobs over the next several years, this is a significant reinvestment in our community. As a dedicated community partner, people from every level within Masters Gallery Foods are involved with workforce development, philanthropy and community service. Whether they're mentoring students, or contributing to building efforts such as the Plymouth Arts Center and Generations, Masters Gallery Foods is honored to be recognized as a community leader and strong supporter of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

Congratulations to Masters Gallery Foods for receiving the 2013 Large Business of the Year Award!

Allechant Boutique Wins Small Business of the Year

Allechant Boutique stands out because of its unique business plan, creative marketing ideas, and energetic, community-oriented mindset. Starting out their brick-and-mortar business in downtown Plymouth, they featured vintage "new old stock" lingerie, vintage jewelry and new costume jewelry. It didn't take them long to realize that their plans were going to change. They responded to customer demand for trendy clothing and accessories. So in came purses, scarves, tops, bottoms, dresses, sweaters, and even Alex and Ani jewelry...all of this launched over the past few years! Owners Jackie and Jim have taken the lead in creating small events and participating in established events that promote shopping in downtown Plymouth.

Congratulations to Allechant Boutique for receiving a 2013 Small Business of the Year Award!

IQ Print Media Wins Small Business of the Year

A full-service digital and print marketing company, IQ Print Media doubled the size of its workforce in 2013 and added web design, search engine optimization, pay-per-click campaign management, brand development, and brand management to its services. As a company, they are involved in many community organizations, allowing them to give back to the community. Some of the organizations they support are Plymouth Rotary Club, Plymouth Optimist Club, Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, Plymouth Intergenerational Center Event Committee, Elkhart Lake and Sheboygan County Chambers of Commerce, Making Spirits Bright Marketing Committee, and BNI-Optimal networkers chapter.

Congratulations to IQ Print Media for receiving a 2013 Small Business of the Year Award!
